Executive Proclamation

Office Of The Governor

WHEREAS, Francis G. Dunn, through diligence and perseverance, worked his way through college and graduated from General Beadle College in 1935, went on to earn his law degree from the University of South Dakota in 1937, and put his new law degree to work when he entered private practice in Madison in 1937; and,

WHEREAS, Duty called and Francis left Madison for Washington, D. C., where he served Senator W. J. Bulow from 1941 to 1942; and when duty again called Francis Dunn responded to his country's need by serving in Naval Intelligence with the rank of Lieutenant Commander during World War II; and, ever mindful of the needs of his nation, Francis accepted a post with the United States Department of Justice in 1945, a position he held until returning to South Dakota as the Assistant United States Attorney for South Dakota in 1950; and,

WHEREAS, Francis again entered private practice in 1954 when he became a member of the firm of Doyle, Mahoney and Dunn; and,

WHEREAS, Never one to turn his back on public duty, Francis became a Sioux Falls Municipal Judge in 1956, graduated to Circuit Court Judge in 1959 and ascended to the South Dakota Supreme Court in 1973, serving as Chief Justice from 1974-1978; and,

WHEREAS, Francis Dunn has decided to retire from the bench on September 7, after a lifetime of service to his state and nation, and colleagues and friends will gather in Sioux Falls on August 30 to honor him for his years as a dedicated public official and to celebrate with him the time he will now have to dedicate to hunting, fishing and his roses; and,

WHEREAS, It is fitting and proper for the Governor to make note of the special occasions in the lives of South Dakota's foremost citizens:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, WILLIAM J. JANKLOW, Governor of the State of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim September 7, 1984, as in South Dakota and I join Francis's wife Betty; their four children, David, Rebecca, Thomas and Carol; their three grandchildren, Judson, Joshua and Carrie; and their many friends and relatives in wishing a happy, healthy and enjoyable retirement to a man who has forever left his imprint on the law of this State.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the State of South Dakota, in Pierre, the Capital City, this Twenty-seventh Day of August, in the Year of Our Lord, Nineteen Hundred and Eighty-Four
